A screenshot of a news article from the website of the National Post. The article is titled "The Pornstar Martini: The story behind this 'provocative, tasty drink'". It features a photograph of a Pornstar Martini cocktail in a tall, slender glass, garnished with a lime wedge. The cocktail is served on a dark surface. The text of the article is visible below the image.

A photograph of two cocktails with white straws and lemon slices, set against a beach background with waves crashing on the shore. The image is framed by a white border.

The screenshot shows the Difford's Guide website. At the top, there are links for 'Cocktails', 'Shop', 'Bar', 'Brews', 'People', and 'Bartenders' Lounge'. Below that is a navigation bar with 'Home', 'Cocktail Finder', 'Search', 'Cocktail of the Day', 'Your Ingredients', 'Your Can-Do', 'Your Recipe', 'Upload a Recipe', and 'More...'. The main content area features a large image of a cocktail in a tall glass with a garnish. The cocktail is identified as the 'Pernod Star Martini'. Below the image, the text 'COCKTAIL OF THE DAY' is displayed, followed by the date '1 September 2013'. To the right of the date are five stars. Below the stars, there are buttons for 'Rate', 'Comment', 'Add to Wish List', and 'Personalise'. The sidebar on the left shows a calendar for September 2013, with the 1st marked as the 'Cocktail of the Day'. The bottom of the page features a banner for 'Difford's Guide' with the tagline 'Cocktails, Spirits, Beers, Wines & Sakes'.
