ROLE OF MANDATES
• Provide systemwide consistency and optimize the guest experience through ensuring product variety coverage.
• Currently, mandates drive 80% of the Total Beer Category.
• With system mandates in place in 2025, our beer category outperformed the industry and adjusted for transactions, we grew total beer sales/units.

MANDATE STRATEGY
• 16 national tap mandates across system.

Below are the guidelines for bottle display coolers to create a prime merchandising environment.

Guidelines
1.	National mandates featured on top shelves
2.	Domestics & imports placed closer to well, display multiple rows of each for increased volume
3.	Corona and Michelob Ultra are focus brands and should be positioned at the end of the cooler with at least 2 rows of each
4.	Similar styles should be merchandised together
5.	Non-alcoholic in bottom corner
6.	Flex space should be used for local offerings and only feature cans and bottles
7.	IMPORTANT: Milk, juices, mixers and wine placed out of view (bottom rows of taller coolers covered by BWW Branded sticker or placed in other refrigeration units without glass door)

Example Planograms:

Cooler 1

Cooler 2

Bottle displays are an important tool to maximize packaged beverage sales. Following the recommendations will:

- Create clear suggestions/merchandising to guests
- Prioritize specific SKUs by sales and style
- Align mandates and group styles together for ease of operations

Display Coolers Vary:

Bottle display coolers come in all shapes and sizes. Follow guidelines to design the layout that is best for your sports bar operations. Be sure to:

- Highlight top selling domestic & import brands with multiple rows
- Hide mixers, juices, backup fruit & wine

BWW Branding Considerations:

- Many legacy coolers have outdated bottom stickers and back-lit signs for the top. If coolers have old branding it is recommended to order updated branded signage available on LSM NOW (Do not order outdated back-lit sign from PointB).
